Yanapaccha: AD+, 250 m. 60 – 65°, hard snow wall.

Recommended months : June – August.

Arrival to Huaraz (3400 m.) Acclimatization (Churup lake 4450 m.)

YANAPACCHA – ALPAMAYO.

Day 1: This day , Leaving early we drive to the northern end of the range to the Portachuelo de Llanganuco (4650 m.) We'll start our trekking to moraine camp of Yanapaccha (4900 m.). Camp.

Beautiful view from the camp.

Live your best experience climbing Alpamayo mountain – most beautiful mountain in the world.

Day 2 :We start our climb at 230 am, after cross the glacier We'll climb the wall of the mount until amazing summit of Yanapaccha at 5450 m. Back to camp and return to Huaraz.

Day 3: Rest in Huaraz.

Day 4: This day , Leaving early we drive to the northern end of the range to the town of Cashapampa (2,800 m.). This is where we begin the two day trek to Base Camp. After loading our gear on burros, we set out carrying only light day packs. We enter the valley of the Rio Santa Cruz, narrow at its entrance but widening as we climb further into the range.

After about a 5 hours walk (including breaks) we arrive at our first camp, Llamacorral (3800 m.)

Day 5 :We start trekking, after our breakfast, passing the blue-green color lakes called Ichik Cocha and Jatun Cocha, in 4 hours we have got the Base Camp Arhuaycocha, then we'll start to prepare our climbing equipment for the next day. Camping at 4200 aprox.

Day 6: Climb to the Col camp at 5300m. (This section can sometimes be the most technical part of the entire climb). The high col is between Alpamayo and its sister peak, Quitaraju 6034 m. The guides will lead the climb. Camp in the glacier.

Day 7: Wake up at middle night summit day !!! Ascent to the summit of Alpamayo at 5947m. The climb starts with a big glacier to the bergschrund. There are several steep ice pitches, around 60°. The final couple of pitches increase to 70 - 80° resulting in grading of around Alpine D+ or Ice Grade 3 - 4 . We allow 5 - 6 hours to reach the summit. Return to the Col Camp by rappels of 60 m.

The route will be the FERRARI original route of 1975. Some people call by mistake to this route "French direct." Our team of mountain guides made again the route in 2007.

Day 8: Return to base camp.

Day 9: Back to Huaraz.
